Adlerbert Study Scholarship

The Adlerbert Study Scholarship is a scholarship that covers the entire tuition fee for two years for students from countries not represented at Chalmers to a large extent. This is to give students from countries that normally do not have the opportunity to study abroad the chance to come to Chalmers and to broaden our diversity and enrich our study environment. The scholarship was awarded for the first time in the fall of 2016.

Student group

International students at the advanced level are included, both engineers and architects. The student must be a citizen of any country belonging to the DAC list of ODA recipients, except for China and India as these countries are considered over-represented on Chalmers in comparison with the others on the list. The OECD, Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, is the responsible publisher of the list.

Scholarship amount

Five comprehensive tuition scholarships (100%).

The Adlerbert Study Scholarship is paid from the Adlerbertska Foundations.

In 2016, when the scholarship was instituted, the tuition fee for one semester was SEK 70,000 for engineering students and SEK 95,000 for architecture students. The tuition fee can be changed and thus also the scholarship amounts. The number of comprehensive scholarships can be adjusted both up and down after evaluation.

Scholarships are not paid to the student but are deducted from the tuition fee. Chalmers invoices responsible for SEB and the amount (two semesters per student) is deducted from Chalmers funds in the Adlerbertska Scholarship Foundation.

Application

The application is made via the Chalmers Scholarship Portal, just like Chalmers other scholarships for prospective fee-paying masters students.

Selection

The terms and conditions for the Adlerbert Study Scholarship written down in these regulations apply in the first place. Other scholarship conditions for the students are handled in accordance with the document Scholarship regulations, C 2019-2119-2.
