

Master Thesis - Supply Chain Evolution and Trade Barriers

Position Description

Background & description:

“The evolution on supply chains driven by the experience of the COVID-pandemic accelerated by trade-limitations (incl Brexit)”.

The pandemic has impacted global supply chains in an unprecedented way by:

- Local shut-downs driven by country/regional governments
- Company-specific shut-downs driven by the appearance of COVID-cases
- Limited border-crossing possibilities due to border-closings
- Reduced travelling possibilities

The thesis should:

- Describe the impact more detailed
- Reflect on the reactions of different governments after that experience
- Possible reactions from automotive industries after the experience
- Highlight on-going trends from automotive industries
- Forecast the consequences for the future for global supply networks
- Identify which global supply chains are more sensitive than others
- Give recommendations on how global Purchasing organizations should govern their sourcing decisions

Student profile and application

- Master students in Business or Engineering
- This master thesis project suits one or two students. If you apply together with someone, please write one cover letter and two separate resumés
- Geographical location: Gothenburg, Sweden. No travel needed

Thesis Level: Master

Language: English

Contact information: Tony Johansson, mail: tony.johansson.4@volvo.com
phone: +46 313238207

About us

The Volvo Group drives prosperity through transport solutions, offering trucks, buses, construction equipment, power solutions for marine and industrial applications, financing and services that increase our customers' uptime and productivity. Founded in 1927, the Volvo Group is committed to shaping the future landscape of sustainable transport and infrastructure solutions. Countless career opportunities are offered across the group's leading brands -

Volvo, Volvo Penta, Terex Trucks, SDLG, Renault Trucks, Prevost, Nova Bus, Mack, Eicher, Dongfeng Trucks and Arquus.

Volvo Group Trucks Purchasing has 125 BSEK in purchasing annual spend and 2,550 suppliers in serial production. We deliver the best possible products and service that bring value to our customers through scouting and working with high performing supply chain partners.

We support Volvo Group's mission 'Driving prosperity through transport solutions' through sustainability, business ethics and innovation. When you join Volvo Group Trucks Purchasing, you will become part of a global network with more than 1,400 professionals in 50 different sites across 25 countries. Joining us means working in a global context with people from diverse backgrounds and different nationalities while contributing to the core business and results of Volvo Group.

Diversity is important for us, we therefore put a lot of time and effort into creating an open and inclusive environment for all. We are extremely proud to say that we are almost as many females as men in our team. We are goal oriented and business focused people who believe that the best results are achieved while having fun and when we challenge each other. We offer unique opportunities where you can accelerate your career through competence development and connect with people who are truly passionate for purchasing. Join us and work where the action is!